

Loosely Woven is loosely rovin'!

Heard a blast of folk music coming from a house or hall up your street recently?

Dungog Music Club, a branch of the Dungog Arts Society, is gearing up to play with roving minstrel folk-band Loosely Woven who will be paying Dungog a visit on their forthcoming tour: On the Road!

This eclectic group of musicians team up with locals in towns across the country to produce fun, heartfelt community concerts.

Loosely Woven play for free, so all proceeds from ticket sales will go to the cost of hiring the hall and our chosen charities: Dungog

High School Music Department (the school urgently needs their piano tuned amongst other things) and The Cancer Council.

The concert is part of the Dungog Shire Autumn Festival. Tickets are on sale at the Visitor Information Centre.

Leftover tickets will be sold on the door.

This is a great event for all the family to enjoy. Please note the date in your diary and help us keep community music alive and kicking in Dungog!

The group will be playing at Dungog Baptist Hall at 7pm on Wednesday, April 11.

Light refreshments at half-time...extra helpings for those in the audience who join in!

Musicians and singers interested in rehearsing with Dungog Music Club, please ring Helen on 4995 9324.

All are welcome to join, whatever your standard.

In addition to rehearsing for this concert, the Dungog Warblers meet every second Sunday of the month at 7pm (Baptist Hall) to sing popular songs, music from shows, blues, jazz and folk.

Instrumentalists meet at various times for workshops and jams.
