

Hi Wayne,

I attended the Loosely Woven concert at Humph Hall recently – I am a colleague of Tony Sweetnam.

I was entranced! Growing up in Penzance, Cornwall the repertoire was very familiar sounding. It was wonderful to hear references to the Scilly Isles, too.

There was a (large) woman in the audience singing along with the most incredible voice – that reminded me very much of Brenda Wootton – a (now deceased) folk singer from Penzance.

I look forward to your next concert very much. I am not in the slightest bit musical and am very envious of people participating in the group! It looks like a wonderful experience.

Cheers

Scott
